WORK ON TWO MILES OF TRAIL

Detour Through Lakeshore Necessitated by Raising Road Bed of OST

Work began this week on raising the roadbed on two miles of the Old Spanish Trail west of Bay St. Louis, in accordance with the plan of the State Highway Commission in improving this stretch of road. The portion of the road on which the work is being done is from a point near the site of the proposed aviation field westward two miles. Recently a drainage ditch was dug through this section in order to take care of the water from the road, this canal leading from Bayou Phillip. The present work on the roadbed is being handled in such a way that the gravel surface is being removed, the roadbed filled in with dirt and then the gravel will be replaced. This work will take about 1 1/2 months, it was said. While the work is under way all traffic over the OST is detoured through Lakeshore to the beach front and thence by the paved highway into Bay St. Louis.

RED CROSS SEEKS MORE MEMBERS

Plans are Being Laid by Humanitarian Organization for Increased Enrollment.

The Hancock County chapter of the American Red Cross which is headed this year by Mrs. Marielouise Juden, secretary of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, as Roll Call chairman, is laying plans to do its part in carrying out the national policy of expansion through increased enrollment. Committees are being formed by Mrs. Juden and will be announced soon.

By virtue of the increased burdens in relieving suffering during the last fiscal year, ended June 30, the American Red Cross this fall will make an effort to master the largest membership it has enrolled in many years.

The past year will be recorded by the Red Cross as one of its most significant periods for several reasons. The year found the society bringing to successful completion its greatest peace-time assignment which was the drought relief program. It found more volunteer workers giving their full time relief of drought victims through the Red Cross than during any similar period in the last decade. Then, this year marks the organization's fiftieth anniversary.

Since its beginning in this country fifty years ago the Red Cross has handled more than 1,000 disasters. This work is conducted in addition to the other Red Cross services. First aid and life-saving, nutrition, public health nursing, home hygiene and care of the sick, service to veterans and service men, foreign and insular operations and Junior Red Cross Work, all showed forward strides during the last year. Besides the drought, 61 other disasters visited this country during the 12-month period, spreading destruction and increased demands upon the society.

The American Red Cross came into being on the night of May 21, 1881. It was on that date that Miss Clara Barton, famous for her volunteer relief work on the battlefields of the Civil War, presented to the world a distinguished men and women in her Washington, D. C., home to organize the society. During the gathering the organization's first constitution and an application for the District of Columbia charter were signed. Miss Barton was selected as the first president and served in that capacity for twenty-three years.

Today the American Red Cross, a semi-government agency, is operating under a Congressional charter which was issued in 1905, following reorganization during the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt. William Howard Taft, then Secretary of War, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman were instrumental in the reorganization. Miss Boardman, a devoted Red Cross volunteer for more than a quarter of a century, today is secretary of the organization.

The Red Cross is composed of more than 4,000,000 Senior memberships. Its growth has been evidence of its performance. Since the past year's activities proved such a heavy drain on its resources, the approaching annual Roll Call should result in a greater membership than it has enjoyed since war days.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING

Gulf Coast Union of Students Spiritual Council Met Wednesday at St. Joseph's Academy

The Gulf Coast Union of the Students Spiritual Council of the New Orleans district met Wednesday night at St. Joseph's Academy Memorial Hall, Bay St. Louis, with the members of the local Children of Mary attending the meeting of the council which is composed of representatives of all localities from Biloxi to Bay St. Louis. Council members included three from Biloxi, two from Gulfport, two from Long Beach, two from St. Stanislaus College and two from St. Joseph's Academy, Bay St. Louis. Pass Christian council members were not in attendance because of a mission in progress at St. Paul's Catholic church there. About 30 members of St. Joseph's Children of Mary sodality were present. The council had voted at the last meeting that in future the members of the host sodality were to attend the council meeting.

Rev. A. J. Gmelch, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, was the guest priest, opening the meeting with a prayer, and at the close of the business session addressing the gathering. He complimented the students on the meritorious manner in which their work is being conducted. A message from the bishop, delivered by Rev. Gmelch, requested each sodality to have a book rack in each church in which religious books or pamphlets are to be placed. Reports were made by each school among the work done during the past week including the forming of study clubs, charity work, sick visits, etc.

At the close of the business meeting a program was given by the host sodality consisting of the following: accordian solo, Charles Jesse, St. Stanislaus College; chorus of girls sang the Rosary; reading, Loraine Quintini; solos by Yvette Telhiard, Louise Lowe was the accompanist. Capt. and Mrs. Alec Faye Move Into New Home at Fenton

Losing their home by fire on November 1st of last year, Captain and Mrs. Alec Faye of Fenton, this county, recently rebuilt their home and moved therein last Saturday on their return from a three weeks' trip and visit at Hot Springs, Ark.

It will be remembered the home, with its years of imperishable memories and collection of sentimental values was totally destroyed by fire on last All Saints' Day, and with it some thirty-eight hundred dollars in cash destroyed.

It was while Capt. Faye was away Faye was alone at the house with a colored servant, flames developed from the roof near the kitchen flue. Capt. Faye had intended taking the cash with him for a specific investment and had so said to his wife. Mrs. Faye so thinking, after having been told, did not concern herself about the money.

The new home is not only attractive but comfortable and furnished newly and modernly throughout. Returning home from Hot Springs Saturday with Capt. and Mrs. Faye were Mr. and Mrs. Olus Depree, son-in-law and daughter, and two young children. The delightful trip was made to and fro by motor, spending the night at Jackson on their way home.

Fishing Good in Bay And Near by Rivers

Fishing for the past several weeks is good both in the waters of the Bay of St. Louis and outward into the Mississippi Sound, and also in the nearby rivers. Fine catches of speckled trout are reported from the salt waters. Extra good catches of red fish, green trout, sheepshead and speckled trout from the rivers emptying into the bay. Numbers of fishermen are noted spending many hours along the rivers, with skiffs and other small boats, especially those with outboard motors, pursue the fish along the banks. On the salt waters early and late afternoon fishermen occupy boats along chartered fishing sections and the bridges are filled most of the day light hours with fishermen.

THE ELIGIBILITY OF ED KELLAR NOT PASSED ON

The eligibility of Ed Kellar to serve as sheriff of Hancock county was not passed on in the case of Claude Monti vs. Ed Kellar heard before Judge W. A. White at Gulfport Wednesday afternoon, it was said. The question of eligibility was not presented at the hearing and therefore was not decided either for or against Kellar, it was said. The court ruled that Monti having been defeated in the Hancock county primaries in his face for sheriff was not entitled to have his name placed on the county ticket in the general election by means of a petition for that purpose. The fight against Kellar has been based on the claim that he failed to pay some of the taxes which had been assessed against him.

Error In Name

In the recent issue of the Echo it was reported that Albert Tucker of New Orleans had died. It is learned that it was not Albert but his brother William Tucker who passed away some three weeks ago. The deceased did not reside in Bay St. Louis but was a Coast property owner. His business was that of a tinner.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON.

THE "Wizard of Menlo Park" has passed on, and not only America but the whole world mourns his death.

Thomas Alva Edison's genius contributed more toward the development of modern life than that of any man of this age. All the energies of his great mind were devoted to the invention of those things which were of practical value to humanity. The world is indebted to him for the first practical incandescent lamp and also an electric system to operate it, and had he done nothing else humanity should never cease to accord him thankfulness.

It will be a long time ere another inventive genius will take the place of Thomas Alva Edison, whose career and achievements have challenged the admiration of the peoples of the world.

HALF A BILLION A YEAR.

Every state in this country imposes a tax on the sale of gasoline. During the first half of the present year these taxes provided a net revenue of a little more than $240,000,000.

The proceeds of the gasoline tax are used mainly for the construction of roads or to pay for roads already constructed. Only a little more than four per cent is needed for collection costs and other miscellaneous items of expense.

The figures for the first half of this year show an increase in the consumption of gasoline in thirty-six of the forty-eight states. On a similar basis it is estimated that the gasoline tax will yield more than half a billion dollars for the entire calendar year of 1931.

This tax is one called upon in the last few years to delay the expenses of modern highways and up until that time had not been known.

HONOR THE COP.

An honest policeman, devoting all his energies to enforcing the laws and protecting the people he serves, deserves the commendation and support of all good citizens. Instead of this, very often the cop is depreciated and the criminal magnified. In a recent address President Hoover lamented this fact, saying:

"There is a sentimentalism in some people which makes popular heroes out of criminals which needs replacement by a sentimentalism that makes a popular hero of the policeman for the courage and devotion he shows in protection of our citizens. Instead of the glorification of cowardly gangsters, we need the glorification of policemen who do their duty and who give their lives in public protection."

It won't be long now before somebody will be asking what is there to be thankful about.

Southern and western farmers have quit all arguments about whether cotton or corn is king.

If a farmer be one who grows his food and feeds they are very few farmers in this section of the woods.

Throw an unbranded compliment among a group of men and they will fight like a pack of dogs over a bone.

If you have any difficulty in capturing the attention of your audience pay her a nice compliment in a low voice and see her lean forward at once.

The statisticians might as well cease worrying over the per capita distribution of money in this country. What is wrong now is the per stocking distribution.

The first sign of wisdom on the part of a teacher is to understand the worth of real pride; it is what makes men and women die for what they believe in.

Judging from the advertisements we read all that a young man has to do is to take a correspondence course and then pick out the business he wants to run.

One reason why peace is hard to get in this world is that any time you get five or six "leaders" into a conference you can take your choice of five or six different "solutions" of the same problem.

The President condemns the glorifying of thugs, instead of the police, and everybody agrees with him. The great majority of police officers are honest, regardless of what you might happen to believe.

Statements in the newspapers, regardless of who makes them, will not end depressions. It's a case of a little pushing and shoving by everybody before the going is good again.

The Chinese army was estimated, in 1929, at 1,800,000 men and the Japanese army at 210,880. However, in the present clash you will see how much good the Chinese army is against Japan's modern navy.

What most rural communities need is a better social life, but the trouble is that too many of the best people are deserting their farms for the towns and cities, leaving rural communities to fight it out as best it can.

THE OLD BUNK.

THE Japanese Ambassador to America informs the Secretary of State that there could be no war between China and Japan because the two countries were too closely associated with each other to go to war.

That is the old line of buncombe. No two nations have ever been so closely associated that rivalry and passion could not make them fight. No two nations of the world exist as closely as the North and South did in this country in 1861, yet they fought. England, just prior to the War of the Roses, also enjoyed close association between the two factions, but they fought.

The Japanese Ambassador was more interested in trying to make the American Government think war was improbable than he was in recognizing the probability. To all appearances Japan is determined to take some advantage of China and the rest of the nations hesitate to offend her. The Renunciation of War, the League Covenant, and the Pacific Pact all seem to count for nothing with Japan.

The world faces the grave danger of ever-spreading conflict in Manchuria. It is the "Balkans" of Eastern Asia. Russia, China and Japan would all go to war, if each thought victory would come, to completely out the others from any claim or interest in this rich territory. If China and Japan get to fighting over it Russia is apt to be tempted. Other countries interested in the integrity of China and the "open door" may also take a hand.

NEED MEN LIKE THIS.

THE British are in the midst of a very exciting and tense political campaign. J. Ramsay MacDonald has been Prime Minister three times but in the recent economic crisis which confronted his country he followed a course which caused his party to reject him. The Labor Party has an opposing candidate and press dispatches tell of MacDonald's campaign in his constituency to be reelected a member of the House of Commons.

Men like MacDonald are badly needed. Labor would not be performing a service to Britain in defeating for the Commons a statesman who has had the experience that MacDonald has, regardless of temporary differences over present issues. Yet, under present political methods in every country, such leaders are very often rejected by voters in a particular district and the nation as a whole loses the benefits of all the training and skill acquired in statesmanship through years of active participation.

MacDonald would be valuable to Great Britain because of his past contact with leaders of foreign governments, if for nothing else. The same is true of other prominent statesmen, now out of office, whose positions in the past have drawn them into contact with the leading spirits of other countries. Yet, party politics and individual political issues very often cause a nation to lose the services of some of its best citizens.

EVERYBODY'S FAULT.

THE administration of laws and the punishment of criminals depend upon the cooperation of our entire population, although the lawyers and jurists have more responsibility in this regard than any other classes. Speaking recently, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the investigating bureau of the Department of Justice, called attention to the responsibilities of us all in a very few words. He said:

"If the legal profession would purge itself of those parasites who call themselves 'attorneys at law,' but might be more properly styled 'legal technicians and alibi framers,' if the courts would function more energetically, and forcefully in administering justice and eliminate the all too prevalent tendency toward finding technical obstructions in carrying out the spirit of the law, and if the public would awaken to civic responsibility, including close scrutiny of prosecuting officials, to be accompanied by the swift official dismissal of any officer betraying his public trust, the problems confronting law enforcement officers would be materially simplified and the punishment of the criminal rendered more swift and certain."

OPPOSES SALES TAX.

IT is not surprising to see that the American Federation of Labor vigorously opposes the passage of any sales tax by Congress. This organization of working-men favors increasing the income tax and imposing a gift tax as a better way of raising the money necessary to make the budget of the government balance. Their opposition to the sales tax is that in its final phases it will be paid by laborers and farmers, although their opposition is based entirely upon the interest of the former rather than of the latter.

The executive committee of the Federation in opposing the sales tax said that the only persons to be benefited by a sales tax "are the 2 per cent of the population who pay an income tax. The burden of taxation would fall upon the 98 per cent who do not pay an income tax. They now pay an indirect tax on everything they buy. The sales tax will increase that tax load."

BACK TO SMALL TOWNS.

A large number of those living in cities are turning to the possibility of reestablishing themselves in small towns, according to O. M. Johnson, economist, of the Department of Agriculture, who explains:

"The movement from cities to farms has been ascribed largely to business depression, many city residents feeling that they could at least produce much of their food supply in the country, while if they remained in the city and lost their positions there would be less to fall back on. 'The same feeling of comparative security, combined with the belief that living is cheaper in small towns, probably is responsible for the apparent increase in interest in moving to the smaller town. Residents of the small towns usually raise small gardens and provide part of their own living in this way.'"

One observation anent the present economic crisis: A lot of boys are going to visit the old home town for the winter.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 20.—Oswald N. Villere, Jr., is now owner of the Willow building in Waveland says the news of last week. Mr. Villere is among those who realize that this is one of the best times to acquire prosperity. Andrew Carnegie and many another man built their fortunes during times of great depression. Mr. Villere may never be able to endow libraries without number, but he is adopting the same farsighted policy. Purchasers of today are certain to make money. Nothing short of a revolution can prevent it, and in the event of such a catastrophe even money would have no value. Besides, there's not going to be a revolution.

Stocks and bonds for the most part still sell below their par value of -00 says the morning market report. But according to the report in the Echo, a 100 per cent attendance record at S. S. is held by William Cunningham who walks seventeen miles rather than miss a day. Experts are of the opinion that most stocks and bonds are worth more than their present market value. Bring me an expert able to calculate how many times 100 that perfect attendance record is worth.

Miss Dellie McConnell, Mrs. B. F. Miller and Bobby Pollard "motored" to Meridian to spend the week end with Prof. Luther Summer. Thus did the Echo describe a delightful event of the past week. Modesty brings with it new words. The newspapers of a hundred years ago probably told that So and So "walked" to the home of a neighbor some bright Sunday afternoon. Thirty years ago they most likely would have said that the travelers "groove" to a neighboring village the verb bringing to readers a vision of a spanking team and carriage or a spring wagon drawn by a span of old mules, as the case might have been. Of course, during all the time newspapers have been printed some reporters merely stated that people "went" to other places, but that's not so good. You see, I now know that Bay St. Louis folks still travel in automobiles, but if I had been told that they "went" I wouldn't know what kind of conveyance was used. As soon as the depression is over we're going to read about our friends "flying" on their social and business calls.

Among other interesting items I see that Miss Mary Ellis has returned to Columbus after a summer spent in Waveland with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thiel. Ah, the homing instinct is more forceful in the Fall than at any other time of the year. The birds of the air and the beasts of the forest all seek shelter and security for the Fall. That's the homing instinct manifesting itself in an elemental way. And I'm sure Miss Ellis will agree that while she had a most pleasant summer enjoying every minute of it she was glad to think of returning home when autumn came painting the signs of approaching winter. That's the homing instinct in its most highly developed form.

I just know there were some old pessimists who shook their heads when they read of the wedding of "runaways" performed by Judge Breath Sunday night. The gloomy ones may not have spoken out loud, but anyway they thought: "Those young folks might well have put that off until times get better." Not so my dear friends, not so! Little sacrifices and privations bring people closer together, and beget almost unselfish love. Think of your own parents! Think of the older couples now living in the golden years of their married life! They set sail on matrimony's sea when the going was rougher than it is today. It isn't always true that "when poverty comes in the door love flies out the window." Cupid has been detected winging his way from the palaces of the mighty quite as often as he has from the huts of those without worldly goods. A happy medium is best, and that they may always be able to maintain that is the finest material wish friends can make for the newly wedded.

Cheering it was to read that Miss Marie Bertrand is "doing nicely" at the Del Bondio home in Pass Christian after her operation. Cheering to me and doubly so to those who know Miss Bertrand and therefore love her best. "Doing nicely." That means then that the worst period is over. Only those who have experienced illness know what it means to the patients.

Here comes the vision of other personages, for surely the members of the Bay Hi football team are persons of note. Right manfully did they defend the goal in last Friday's game with Kilm. The results of the encounter are not so important as the spirit in which the game was played. I recall the mother of a high school lad recently asking me if she should allow her son to enter football training. He was begging to but she had withheld her consent for the time. I advised her to let him go ahead, by all means. Football practice will most likely help to

LIFE OF EDISON STANDS OUT AS
SHINING EXAMPLEBy JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

When the telegraph operator receives the traditional 30 over his clattering instrument it means the end of his daily task. Thomas Alva Edison, the world's greatest inventive genius, was a railroad telegraph operator at one time in his gifted and brilliant lifetime. During the small hours on Sunday, October 18th this great and universally loved man received his 30 from the Master Operator. Thus came a peaceful ending, climaxing the long and useful career of Thomas Alva Edison, sincere friend and benefactor to all mankind—rich and poor alike.

Blessed with a heart that remained always kind and sympathetic, even as an admiring and worshipping world heaped honor and glory at his feet, the life of Edison will stand as a shining example of this and future generations.

And though he has departed from our midst, nearly every common everyday necessity and luxury enjoyed by modern civilization will forever perpetuate memory of the one whose mind and hands brought about their invention.

From the pages of history books, youthful Americans will study the life record and accomplishments of Thomas Alva Edison. His high ideals, hard work, and undaunted courage in carrying out his convictions will serve as an inspiration that will be instrumental in encouraging future great Americans to take up the task where the master finished.

For several years preceding his death Edison suffered from the effects of a chronic disease. Medical authorities advised him to retire, but this renowned workman refused, continuing to keep his shoulder to the wheel in the interest of science and invention. This proved his greatest interest was in the welfare of his fellowmen regardless of what the price may be to himself.

But when the Master Operator sounded the traditional 30, this gentle soul . . . world-weary by long, arduous years of sacrificing service in behalf of humanity . . . was ready to leave the task. Surely he must have realized this spirit. . . love . . . and inventions, that were part of the earthly Edison would remain—and with them remains Edison, forever and ever.

Sub-grading of Waveland avenue from R. R. to the Beach, will start Monday, October 26, and when completed, paving will be rushed to connect with beach highway.

This will be a great improvement for our town and later other streets will be paved.

Our town officials are wide awake and are going to make Waveland the greatest residential section on the Coast.

BAY ST. LOUIS HI DEFEATS LYMAN HI IN ANNUAL CLASH

By James Hays
The Bay Hi Tigers led by the diminutive Orest Laurent turned back Lyman Hi by the score of 6-0 at Gulfport Saturday night.

In the first quarter the Tigers battled Lyman's determined defense and it was not until the last part of the second quarter that they made their first threat. The opening quarter was pretty evenly fought and showed hard punting by both teams.

In the second quarter, Loicano of Bay Hi, kicked a beauty out of bounds on the Lyman 9 yard line. Holston, Lyman's quarterback, unable to penetrate the Tiger line, threw a pass which was intercepted by Benson on the 25 yard mark. Bay Hi marched 20 yards but could go no farther and after losing seven yards surrendered the ball on downs.

The lone marker came in the third quarter after Bay Hi received the kickoff and advanced the oval by successive line plays to Lyman's 45 yard line. Then Stassi circled end for 11 yards, and Smith—speedy halfback—made a spectacular 32 yard run for the touchdown.

The Bulldogs showed plenty of fight, but did not threaten seriously to score during the whole game. After the third quarter the game was not at all in doubt and at one time the Tigers took the ball to Lyman's 9 yard line but once again met the stone wall defense. No passes were completed and several punts were fumbled because of the little experience both teams had had on night gridirons. Peterman and Holston were the bright spots on the Lyman team while no individuals stood out for Bay Hi.

The lineup and summary follows:

Bay Hi	Positions	Lyman
Coward	L.E.	C. Clark
Favre	L.T.	Wilder
Erwin	L.G.	Holston
Benson	C.	Hickman
Ladner	R.G.	McDaniel

Laurent	R.E.	Thurman
Stassi	Q.B.	Holston
Larroux	L.H.	Faulkenberry
Moran	R.H.	J. Clark
Loicano	P.	Peterman

Score by quarters:
Bay High 0 0 6 0
Lyman High 0 0 0 0

Summary: Scoring touchdown—Bay St. Louis, Smith; passes attempted Bay High 4; Lyman 5; passes intercepted Bay Hi 1; Passes completed Bay St. Louis 2; first downs Bay High 6; Lyman 4; Penalties Lyman 20 yards.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

MACK'S DREAM SHATTERED
CARDINALS SHOW STRENGTH
GROVE'S 3-YEAR RECORD
SHARKEY FLAYS CARNERA
ARMY VS. NAVY
SUN BEAU RETIRES.

Connie Mack's dream of winning three successive world's championships crumbled beneath the pitching of Grimes and Hallahan, the superlative attacks of Pepper Martin, the adequate reserve strength of the Cardinal chain system and the brilliant performance of a team that drove to victory through the superiority of speed and science over power.

With better hitting and fielding on the part of both teams than was seen in the series of 1930, the paradox remains that pitching was also superior brand. The veteran, Burleigh Grimes, showed the best form, holding the Athletics to nine hits in seventeen and two-thirds innings and winning two games. Closely following was Earnshaw's twelve hits in twenty-four innings, marked by two defeats, the first the last game attributable in part to his own wild pitch. Hallahan was next in effectiveness, allowing twelve hits in eighteen and a half innings. The great Grove, hit twenty-eight times in twenty-six innings, lucky to win the first game, was apparently off form in the first and second games, but came back to win the sixth game.

Simmons (.333), Fox (.348) and Williams (.324) led the Philadelphia batters. On the Cardinal side, Martin (.500) was the only player to reach the 300 mark. Worthy of note also were the three errorless games and the fact that only two errors were made in the first five contests.

Before leaving the subject of baseball, one should recall the fact that during which time the Cardinals, with 31 victories and 4 defeats, led the American League hurriers for the third successive year, during which time they have amassed the amazing record of 70 victories to only 15 defeats, ranking first in effectiveness as well as in the won and lost percentage. His average for this year breaks the previous Major League record established by Joe Wood, Red Sox star, in 1912 when he won 34 games and lost only 5.

In the National Circuit, Paul Greninger, of the Cardinals, with 18 victories and 8 defeats, was the leading pitcher of the year, although Jesse Haines, with 11 games won and 3 lost, was the nominal leader. Haines due to an injury, was not available for the World Series this year although in his only game of the 1930 series he held the Athletics to 4 hits.

Jack Sharkey's clear-cut victory over Primo Carnera, the giant Italian, puts him in line for another shot at the title and revives interest in his ability, which slackened somewhat after his fight with Mickey Walker.

Prior to the fourth round, the man-mountain surprised observers with his speed and defense. Jabbing lefts to the face kept Sharkey off balance, and at times made him awkward. But, in the fourth round, the Bostonian crashed a solid left hook to the jaw and the Italian went down, and how.

Here occurred an interesting spectacle. Carnera, upset and dazed arose at the count of six to follow instructions and go back to his knees for a further count. By going down without being hit, he disappointed himself, and Sharkey pressed the referee for the award. "Gunsboat" Smith waved him back and Sharkey apparently raving, tried to climb out of the ropes but was prevented by his manager, Johnnie Buckley, who pushed him back and told him to fight. After this round, the fight was practically all Sharkey's and Carnera was staggering on the verge of a knock-out at the final bell.

Announcement of another charity football game between the Army and Navy, to be played on December 12, in the Yankee Stadium at New York City, it is hoped, will stimulate similar charity contests throughout the country for the benefit of the unemployed. It is interesting that the President's National Committee is anxious for all colleges to donate one game to this cause, the proceeds to be given to local funds. The Army-Navy game, of course, will be one of the highlights of the season, and special efforts will be made to give it all the glamor of other service contests.

Notable in the football arena was the scoreless tie between Notre Dame and Northwestern. This game brought to an end Notre Dame's remarkable string of 20 consecutive victories. Georgia's third consecutive victory over Yale, with a style of play that was purely Notre Dame's. Entirely too early to attempt to list the outstanding elements in the country although there have occurred upsets aplenty in the games played to this date.

Sun Beau, for the third consecutive year won the $25,000 Hawthorne gold cup, beating Mate by a length and a half and stretching his total winnings to $376,744 in five years of campaigning.

Running his last race, the greatest money winning thoroughbred in the world, clinched his marvelous career by coming in ahead of Mate, generally regarded as the technical three-year-old champion of 1931 because of two victories over Twenty Grand.

CLARK GABLE IS GRETA GARBO'S NEW LEADING MAN

Pair's Romantic Interludes Highlight of "Susan Lenox."

The answer to many a maiden's prayer is to be found in the teamwork of Greta Garbo and Clark Gable in "Susan Lenox," Her Fall and Rise, at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

It was a happy and wise decision that made the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor officials cast this engaging newcomer opposite the famous Swedish star. Gable is right at the top of the ladder in the estimation of fans and his work in the Garbo picture would seem to assure his early bid for stardom.

Garbo is magnificent as the heroine of the David Graham Phillips story which Robert Z. Leonard directed. The famous novel was adapted for the screen by Wanda Tuchock with dialogue written by Zella Sears and Leon Gordon. Modernized as it is, the dramatic regeneration theme makes ideal material for Garbo. In the opinion of this reviewer she accomplishes the greatest individual characterization of all her talkie efforts.

Leonard's fine direction keeps the picture moving at a rapid tempo, reaching a gripping climax after a most novel cross-section showing the disintegration of the girl who climbed from obscurity to power due to her consuming love for the man who first led her astray.

U. S. CAN BRING REAL PEACE, SAYS MAHATMA GANDHI

Disarmament Must Be Initiated by Strong Nation, He Asserts.

New York, Oct. 18.—Real world peace and disarmament will come when a strong nation like America initiates it, Mahatma Gandhi said in a letter to Dr. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, made public today.

The letter, mailed from London, said: "I was deeply touched by your prayerful greetings. My message to American Christians on world peace and disarmament is not a matter of reciprocity. When real peace and disarmament come they will be initiated by a strong nation like America, irrespective of the consent and cooperation of other nations."

"An individual or nation must have faith in one's self and in the protective power of God to find peace in the midst of strife and to shed all arms by reason of feeling the loving power of God and his protective shield and hold such peace to be impossible so long as strong nations do not consider it sinful to exploit weak nations."

31,294 MISSISSIPPI FARMERS HELPED BY SEED LOAN OFFICE

The Mississippi Extension Department in cooperation with the Federal Seed Loan Office of Memphis, Tennessee, and county drought relief committees, assisted 31,294 Mississippi farmers in obtaining loans with which to make a crop this year according to information from L. I. Jones, State Agent and Assistant Director of Extension.

21,625 farmers obtained loans totaling $3,727,707 for the purchase of seed, feed and fertilizer.

Fourteen extension agents from the state office devoted fifty-one weeks or a total of 306 working days in assisting the Memphis office in the allocation of loans to Mississippi farmers. The total service rendered by county extension agents in assisting farmers in making out applications for loans and in determining their cropping plans was much larger.

These loans enabled farmers to obtain money at low interest rate for living and production purposes and to grow the largest crop of food and feed they probably ever raised, as they were required to plant an adequate acreage to food and feed crops.

POWER COMPANY TO WIRE BEACON LIGHTS ON ROUTE

The Mississippi Power Company is making surveys and securing data for wiring beacon lights for the U. S. mail air service between Atlanta and Houston, Texas. The company will wire and furnish current for beacon lights at Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian and Waveland. There will be a light on a tower near Fountainebleau, but the Mississippi Power Company will not furnish current for this tower as it will be lighted by an apparatus installed on the ground.

Material for the construction of these towers is on the ground at all of these places and construction work will commence soon.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

CHILDREN OF MARY.

The Children of Mary held their regular weekly meeting Thursday. This meeting was a most business-like one indeed. Various plans were discussed and the girls voiced their different opinions on the debated subjects. Our Mission Committee was told to get down to work and it looks as though the girls of this committee are taking our advice for they are doing their utmost to direct the attention of the Sodalis towards the Missions.

A Mission Poster now decorates the bulletin board. It is called the Mission Rosary and when completed will represent a whole Rosary of dimes fifty in all, which will be a slight tribute of our love for Our Lady of the Rosary.

Each girl was asked to inform us of the number of communions she received during vacation so that we may be able to formulate our report on the number of summer communions of the S. J. A. Children of Mary, which report must be ready for the meeting of the "Union of Gulf Coast Sodalis" Wednesday night.

The Sodalis were reminded that this is still the month of the Holy Rosary, and that they must not forget their recitation of at least one decade of the Rosary daily.

COAST UNION MEETING WEDNESDAY.

All Sodalis anxiously awaited Wednesday's meeting of the officers of the Coast Union. Not only was this meeting the first to be held at S. J. A., but it was also the first meeting of its kind to which all Sodalis were invited. Much was expected of this meeting which was held Wednesday at 7:30 in our gym. We'll tell you all about it next week.

A NEW RADIO CAUSES MUCH JOY AT S. J. A.

Hurrah! No more static! No more crowding and pushing to get the place nearest the old radio! All our worries in that line are over now, for S. J. A. was made very happy during the past week when a beautiful brand new Radio was presented to the school by our kind pastor the Rev. Rev. A. J. Gmelch.

If Father Gmelch could see the girls when a bell rings to announce the close of recreation or intermission, he would realize just how much enjoyment his gift has occasioned. Why, one must literally drag the girls away from the new "Radio" so intent are they upon "listening in." S. J. A. wishes to express its sincerest thanks to Father Gmelch for this most welcome gift of his.

NOTICE.

We were very amused when we read the "Notice" in the Stanislaus notes. It was very clever and reveals a student well versed in the use of English. Its lack of charity and prudence shows that the clerical members of S. S. C.'s Faculty had nothing to do with it; on the other hand its tasty English and subtle insinuations lead us to believe that it was not composed by any of the Stanislaus Seniors.

Now to be logical. If the College Boys have been relieved of the terrible burden of "tolerating us," why should they bother to take offense at imaginary insults?

As regards the "Self Defense Club," we can only say that this is the child of some fertile imagination, for there is no such sorority at S. J. A.

However we will stand by Old Stanislaus through thick and thin, notwithstanding the attitude adopted by a miserable minority of the Stanislaus students. We will be loyal to Stanislaus in spite of the "gentlemanly" qualities manifested by some of the Sophisticated Seniors of our "brother institution." We will look beyond this little speck of dust and see the real spirit of Stanislaus written in the skies, "Sportsmanship, Sincerity, Courage." We will recall the memory of the past Stanislaus graduates who were great sports—who shared our companionship—who tolerated us and with whom we had jolly good times.

To the "Mourners"—the ones with the "Bronx cheer"—we say: "O death, where is thy sting?" "O grave, where is thy victory?" To the real Sons of Stanislaus we say: "S. S. C. we are with you 100 per cent strong."

THE ARTISTIC SENIORS.
By a Classmate Who Was Overlooked when the Gift was Distributed.

I am surrounded on all sides by artists, in fact, nearly all of the Seniors are gifted in that line. To be truthful its driving me mad, for everywhere I turn, my eyes fall on one of their masterpieces. Some of them are good, yet again, although I'm a critic, and have no artistic inclinations myself, still it seems to me that some of the work of these geniuses can scarce be called "art."

Speaking literally, about one half of the Senior Class are artists and no doubt someday they will be successful if they persevere in their efforts, in that line. In later years when I see some of their pictures, adorning some "art gallery" perhaps I will be sorry that I ever poked fun at my artistic classmates and then I may regret what I said about them for after all it's not their fault and it is a recognized fact that all artists are, more or less, "queer."

"MRS. CHAS. MOREAU REMEMBERS S. J. A. FROM ARKANSAS."

The lovely piece of tapestry which we received last Monday from Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau was a most delicate and sensitive proof of the loyalty of this lady's devotion to S. J. A., since she was mindful of it even during the course of her travels.

The tapestry is a pretty representation of the Holy Family and will be placed in the new "Club Room" of our Memorial Hall. We only wish we could make Mrs. Moreau understand how much we appreciate her thoughtfulness and just how much we thank her for her gift.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADE NEWS.

Library Club

The girls of the Seventh and Eighth Grades are proving themselves most active workers. Since October they have already organized two interesting clubs.

The first of these is a Library Club having for its aim the fostering of a liking for books. The officers of this Library Club are:

President, Ella Louise Quinn. Secretary, Genevieve Fayard. Treasurer, Dona Mae Quintini. Librarian, Dorothy Tudary.

This Library Club is open to the pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades only. The dues are five cents a month and entitles each member to two books a month, each book to be borrowed for a period of two weeks.

So far books have been donated to the Seventh and Eighth Grades Library by the following girls: Helen Martin, Marjorie Rose Fayard, Leona Duraynaud and Antoinette Palumbo. We are most thankful to these girls for their generous cooperation.

Slang Club

The second evidence of the Seventh and Eighth Grades' activity is a "Slang Club." The girls of these grades are determined to eliminate all slang from both their conversation and writing. One of them writes: "We have reporters in our 'Slang Club' instead of the usual regular officers. Our reporters are, Evelyn Perre and Helen Martin. This club of us is making fine progress and our members are using less and less slang each day."

"Each time one of us use a slang word it is recorded in one of the little books which we keep for that purpose and the penalty is a small fine."

As a proof of the good which our club is effecting—on comparing our two last reports we noticed that last week 48 slang words were recorded against our members, whereas 60 had been the previous week's report."

"HOLY ANGELS" SODALITY REORGANIZES

During the course of the past week the little girls and boys of the "Holy Angels" Sodality held a most interesting meeting whose chief business was the reelection of officers for the current year. The election resulted as follows:

President, Dorothy Roy. Vice-President, Joyce Baker. Treasurer, Vivian Prague. Secretary, Dorothy Hammer.

Each officer in turn rose after the election and made a short but "cute" little speech of appreciation for the honor reposed upon her by her fellow Sodalis. After a few entertaining recitations of songs given by various members the meeting adjourned.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADE "KANDIE SALE."

It looks as though the Third and Fourth Grades are determined to be the "Banner Class" of this year. And from the start they have already gotten we shouldn't wonder if they did lead the school.

Since the "Mission" material was distributed they've been as busy as can be. The class is divided into groups each of which has a "Mission Box" of its own. Naturally each group is trying to be the first one to fill its box.

These two grades gave a "Kandie Sale" last Friday which put $7.02 to the credit of the Missions. The money was evenly divided among the different class groups.

MY ROSARY

I have a little rosary
It's as plain as plain can be,
But only God in heaven knows
How dear it is to me.

I always have it with me
At every step I take
At evening when I slumber
At morning when I wake.

It aids me in my troubles
It helps me when in pain,
I always say a prayer on it
If I lose or if I gain.

It comforts me in sorrow
My each happiness it shares,
My secrets I reveal to it
When I say my rosary prayers.

I love my plain back rosary
It's my truest, truest friend,
Oh, I'd trade it for no article
Nor even would I lend.

I suppose you think me stingy
And maybe selfish too,
But supposing you should lose it
Then what would I do?

When the time approaches
That I shall have to die
I pray my little rosary
Will close beside me lie.

That the holy name of "Jesus"
May be the last I say,
And kissing my rosary beads
My soul may pass away.

—A Junior Child of Mary.

CONGRATULATIONS S. J. A.

We offer you congratulations. We really mean it from our hearts. Fine work was our impression of last week's game from the start.

Accept our congratulations. They come from loyal hearts. Put away your false impressions. They were wrong from the very start.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

Sodality Enjoys Entertaining Program—Hidden Talent Found.

The members of the Sodality enjoyed a most entertaining program Saturday.

Baquet spoke on the subject "Going to Mass," and advised a more frequent attendance of the Sacraments.

Artiques spoke on the Rosary; he also brought out the fact that a lot of members of the Sodality are members only during a meeting.

The pool-room sharks and the members of the large study hall were the subjects of Bro. Edmund's speech.

The members of the large study hall were asked to increase their attendance at Mass.

We discovered hidden talents in some of the members. Saturday, Red Raine was appointed Master of Ceremonies by Ducasa. Red first announced Tally who sang, "I surrender Dear."

Tom Derby, the harmonica King, played "Wreck of Old '97," "High Society Blues," and when he played "Home Sweet Home" the members didn't know whether he was teasing them or trying to cheer them up.

Castro sang, "I'm Through With Love." He sounded like he meant it.

Jesse, "the Accordion King," played "St. Louis Blues."

Farmia, Breaux and Roth sang, "Little Italy." This was a success. This was.

WE WONDER WHY—

Dees throws shaving brushes around his head.

Some local "light" was so jubilant Sunday P. M.?

Tally is actually beginning to swagger?

Jordan complains of losing weight? Burguies thinks he has Hercules' beat?

Everyone knew his Chemistry Monday?

Laborde always seems preoccupied? Hickman smokes Coupons?

Dees goes riding in tan Packards? Breaux is in a trance?

Daigle is somewhat of an egotist? "Ty" Cobb doesn't wear football shoes?

Laborde wrote to someone in Biloxi? Dees has "ants" Monday?

Breaux wants "that ring"? Castro and Alaimo don't "shave" again?

Kevin was so generous Monday eve?

R. Hill always wants to ask a question in study hall?

L. Esquivel is such an English author?

Sustendal doesn't grow up? McCarley thought it cheaper to get a hair cut than a dog license?

Curro has been having "desk trouble"?

The band is getting so swell lately? Staulig and "Skeets" are adversaries?

Wellburn is so lazy? R. Smythe likes green so much?

Tom Mix spends most of his time going around the track?

Ducasa was invited to go somewhere last Friday?

Kahallay isn't an all-American? Curro doesn't try "ping-pong"?

Loch wants to fall on a poor football?

The "Club" has gone out of existence?

That chorus on the "entertainment" committee didn't finish that song?

Castro is "Thru With Love"? The Commercial Class are all good singers?

Duffin thinks he is so popular with the women?

Marcel Sandoz is so stuck up? V. Gianelloni has a busted lip?

A. Cunningham is called a book worm?

Garcia gets "ants" so often? Sevovich and Brother Conrad are so good friends?

B. Apr is called the "Tank"? R. Lawless's girl complains of his peg arm?

C. Moss wants the sun light to read by?

F. Favalora is called "Doopy" or "Soupy"?

Cripps has a terrible cold? C. Gullott is waiting for the moon last night?

G. Gerchow is called "Greaser."

"Scarface" Al Capone has been convicted on five out of 23 counts charging violation of income laws. The government has been after the notorious gangster for the past three years and now it faces a job of equal length of time to get him behind the bars. He has plenty money and with able attorneys to fight his court battles he is still a long way from imprisonment.

Chanute, Kansas, is a city having a population of 10,000 and no one pays any municipal taxes, all expenses of running the town being paid from the profit accruing from the operation of municipally owned public utilities.

Organization and control of the Lower House of Congress is further complicated, and as matters now stand neither Democrats nor Republicans feel sure which party will be successful in naming the speaker. The defeat of Congressman Ackerman of New Jersey, a Republican has again tied the number of representatives each party now has in the House 214. There are six vacancies to be filled, four of which are from normally Republican districts and two are normally Democratic.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., says his indictment by a District of Columbia grand jury was influenced by "a Catholic district attorney." True bills are not returned by grand juries unless such bodies have reason to believe they will be sustained by the evidence adduced through witnesses. It is too late for the stock gambling and politico-preacher to lay the blame on the Catholic district attorney, and the best thing he can do would be for him to secure the services of a good lawyer to defend him when his case comes up for trial.

The National Sugar Refining Company has "cut out" advertising over the radio to a large extent. Hereafter its programs will be heard with only the bare announcement that they are sponsored by the company. Now if the sponsors of other programs would follow its example and four-fifths of the jazz was cut out it would be a real pleasure to "listen in."

Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England is 65 years old,—and he is every inch a statesman of whom every Briton should feel proud.

With the nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt as the Democratic standard bearer in 1932 virtually conceded as an accepted fact, it is broadly hinted that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will be nominated as the vice-presidential candidate of the Republican party. The name of Theodore Roosevelt is one that would attract support to the Republican ticket and it would offset that of the Democratic nominee. But let the G. O. P. name who it may so long as Herbert Hoover heads their ticket, defeat is sure to come to it.

Some days since we read in the papers that old Tom Hefflin was billed to deliver a lecture in New Orleans but we cannot recall the date on which he was to deliver it. The notorious and discredited old blather-skite was out on the Pacific Coast recently and in several cities he was denied the use of public halls in which to speak, as his one and only purpose of his lecture is to stir up religious prejudice. It is about time for him to realize that he is engaged in a losing battle.

It was a pretty sharp trick Governor Bilbo played on the incoming administration when he called the lawmakers back to the capital and laid before them a complete program of legislation, some of which have necessary but most of it could have well been left untouched until after Theodore surrendered the executive chair to Mike Connor. Let no one think Bilbo was actuated by any other motive than the hope of re-instating himself in the good will of the people—a hope that will fail of realization.

The three measures of emergency legislation—the cotton acreage reduction bill, a $5,000,000 bond issue for highway construction and the $5,000,000 appropriation to pay depositors in banks that failed prior to March 1931—have all been passed and the lawmakers should adjourn and go back home. But it seems the "lame ducks" and Bilbo hold the balance of power and the session may be prolonged for several weeks longer. And, too, that $10 per day looks good to some of them.

As we see it, the low price of cotton and the lack of acreage planted to that particular crop, next year, is going to boost the dairying industry in Mississippi more than anything that has ever happened. The money invested in a dairy cow will yield better returns than the same amount put into anything else, and as the Echo has repeatedly urged, now is the time for our people to engage in the industry. Along with it they should plant a diversification of agricultural crops in order that they may produce feed and foodstuffs in sufficient quantity for both human and animal consumption all the year around. The millions of dollars going out of Mississippi annually in exchange for flour, meat, corn and other products is what has retarded the prosperity of our people and that fact has been forcibly impressed on them during this era of depression. In the coming years they will realize a blessing in this disguise—that is if they develop the dairy industry and practice the diversification of agricultural crops.

What! No Hot Water Again

IT'S the same old story —but what can you expect? Homes that are thoroughly modern in every other respect seem content to needlessly suffer the inefficiency and convenience of an old-fashioned water heating method. And their case is all the more serious when you consider how often hot water is required in the home. There are a "thousand-and-one" times a day when hot water is needed for one thing or another. Something should be done about it—and that should be the installation of a new, modern General Electric Hotpoint Water Heater. Then a mere turn of any hot water faucet in the house will instantly bring forth steaming hot water—and plenty of it.

If the United States persistently—as she has—refuses to become a member of the League of Nations, then why have we any right to butt in and suggest to Japan what that country should do with regard to its trouble with China? The Harrison County Taxpayers' League is seeking a reduction in the county budget of $250,000. The most sweeping slash proposed is in the appropriation for roads, highways and bridges from $257,000 to $30,000. That's some slash all must admit.

LOCAL UNIT ACTIVITIES IN REPORT

Mrs. Laurent Dickson, President of American Legion Auxiliary, Presents Report

Mrs. Laurent Dickson, President of the American Legion Auxiliary of Bay St. Louis, presented the report of the past three months' activities of the unit to the Gulf Coast Council at the quarterly meet held in Gulfport Wednesday of last week. Her report follows in full:

"It is a pleasure to submit the following report of the Unit of the Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139, of Bay St. Louis, having only reorganized June 28th, our activities have been rather limited. The time being so near for a membership drive we made no special effort along that line, however we did raise for any one offering themselves for membership.

The Boy Scouts was our first interest. We sent two scouts to Camp Salmen for a two weeks' vacation, furnishing transportation, there and back for the entire troop of twenty boys. We have since that time bought two uniforms for boys whose parents were unable to purchase them. We have given approximately $50.00 for the benefits of the Scouts.

A colored woman who is the wife of an ex-serviceman, and a very deserving person, badly in need of medical attention, requested our help in sending her to the hospital in New Orleans. We secured shoes, clothing and transportation for her.

We voted to give at least $5.00 per month for food and obtain clothing when needed for a family at Kiln. One child being the orphan of an ex-serviceman, one step child and the grand-mother, who is taking care of them, the mother being dead also. This family has also been receiving help from the Post.

We have helped the Post in selling between $50.00 and $75.00 worth of articles made by disabled veterans of the Gulfport Hospital.

Our membership has more than doubled since reorganizing and we have some very enthusiastic and earnest workers. And we hope to be able to do some real work for the "cause" this coming year."

BRILLIANT coal is highest in heat—lowest in ash waste of almost any coal produced. Four tons of Brilliant give the same amount of heat as 5 of ordinary coal. Four tons of Brilliant leave but 160 pounds of ash, compared with 1000 to 1500 pounds of ash in the equivalent 5 tons of ordinary coal. Buy Brilliant Coal and you'll be amazed how much you will cut your winter fuel bill. There's a size—lump, egg, nut, or stoker—for every heating plant.

$200,000 SENT OUT OF STATE ANNUALLY TO PURCHASE SEED

Mississippi Farmers Save In Reduction of Freight Rates.

A. & M. College, October 10.—The county agents of Mississippi are urging farmers everywhere to save an arm, the supply of home grown seeds for use another year, according to an announcement by L. I. Jones, state agent and assistant director of Extension, A. & M. College, Mississippi. Mr. Jones declared that "Mississippi grows just as good seed as can be purchased from other states, and yet more than $200,000 is sent out of the state annually for seed that could be grown at home. A number of county agents have reported severe crop losses due to purchase of poor seed, the farmers losing not only the money spent for seed, but suffering the larger loss of crop failure." Mr. Jones stated that "The county agents are especially urging farmers to save soy bean seed. Mississippi bought many car loads of soy bean seed last spring from North Carolina and Georgia, sending thousands of dollars out of the state that could easily have been kept at home. The reason given by many farmers for not saving soy bean seed is that the soy beans are cut for hay before they are mature. The county agents are suggesting that farmers let a small area mature seed, cut the stalks by hand, and thresh the seed by flailing the stalks over the side of the wagon bed. A sufficient amount of seed for home use can easily be saved in this way."

Mississippi farmers were saved more than $25,000 in reduction in freight rates on earlier shipments of seed into drought stricken counties of the state last spring, according to the report of L. I. Jones, State Agent and Assistant Director of Extension, to the Washington Extension Office.

The county agents handled and approved applications of farmers for the purchase and shipment into counties declared to have suffered from the drought; 2,579 cars of grain; 1,931 cars of hay, or a total of 4,510 cars on which the railroads granted a fifty percent reduction in freight rates.

400,000 Turkeys From Argentine Sent to U. S.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 18.—Four hundred thousand Argentine turkeys have been shipped to the United States within the last month to compete with native birds for places of honor on the tables of the nation which innovated Thanksgiving Day. Almost all the birds were raised in the province of Buenos Aires. They went northward—killed and plucked and ready to market—eight to the crate—in the refrigerated holds of ocean vessels. Turkey raising in Argentina for customers in the United States is a new industry, sprung up within the last two years. It followed the discovery that turkeys raised during Argentine winter months, July and August—are ready for market just at the time when the United States winter demand begins.

HUGE TASK IN DROUGHT AID MET BY RED CROSS

Relief Given to Distressed Helps in Meeting Serious Situation, Chairman Payne Says.

"The year of the great drought," as these past twelve or more months will be known to future generations, wrought great damage to millions. Not alone did the crops, which were burned in the fields in twenty-three states, in the summer of 1929, deprive several million persons of food, but the drought disaster continued in the summer of 1931 in the northwestern states, and also brought other minor catastrophes in its wake, such as forest fires, and the grasshopper plague. More than a year has elapsed since the American Red Cross launched, in August, 1930, its first moves for relief of the drought-stricken farmers, and in that time more than 2,750,000 persons were given food, clothing, medical aid, shelter or other type of assistance. At no period during this year were there fewer than 70,000 persons being aided and at the peak of the relief work on March 1, last, more than 2,000,000 persons were being helped.

Today, still as a result of the drought, the Red Cross is giving extended relief in parts of North Dakota, Washington and Montana where resources of hundreds of families were wiped out this past summer, when a second and more severe spell of dry weather was prolonged in that region. This drought relief presented the greatest task that has ever been undertaken by the Red Cross as a peacetime activity. The Mississippi Valley flood of 1927, while more spectacular, and calling for relief of a costlier type, because homes and possessions were swept away, affected hardly one-fourth the number of people who suffered because of the drought.

In addition to the broad program of drought relief still being carried on, John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, has given the following suggestion to Chapter chairmen, in regard to unemployment relief: "Where there is suffering and want from any cause and the funds mental local needs are not being met, Chapters may participate in the community plans for meeting the need."

Some type of general family relief, whether for the drought victims, the unemployed or the war veteran and his family, were carried on by more than 3,000 Red Cross Chapters last year, Judge Payne said.

"The drought relief work of 1930-31," he added, "the relief now being extended following last summer's drought, principally in Montana and North Dakota; the assistance which is being given to ex-servicemen and their families; and the part which several hundred Chapters are taking locally in their communities' relief measures are activities of the Red Cross, national and local, which have met and are meeting some of the serious needs of the present situation."

And We're Still Paying.

The world is passing through one of the most extensive depressions it has ever known. In practically all countries we have had falling prices, unemployment, decreased consumption, difficult problems of government finance and, in some countries, political revolutions.

The present crisis is more severe because it follows a war in which the whole world was involved. The sweeping readjustments, which were inevitable in a society that had witnessed revolutionary changes in technology would have come gradually and less painfully under normal peacetime processes. Unfortunately, they were first delayed by the war and then precipitated suddenly on a world already thrown out of balance by the vast and violent displacements which the war left behind. The economic depression that followed is, in part, the price we pay for war.—Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, in a speech before bankers from foreign countries attending the Sixth Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce, May 5, 1931.—Mansfield Enterprise.

Fear of Stalling.

As time goes on the automobile becomes safer and safer. Better brakes, more accessible control, greater visibility, swifter response to the throttle, all contribute to safety. But still there are a few features which could, and no doubt will be improved in this respect by American inventors.

One of the greatest of these is the removal of the clutch or stalling. Deep down below the fears of every nervous driver is the dread of stalling at some critical time. It may be on a railroad track, it may be in heavy traffic, or it may be at a time when the needs of the situation require quick response to the throttle.

The fear of stalling is not an imaginary one. Many accidents are caused every year because some driver under a nervous impulse either applies the brake too quickly before releasing the clutch or steps too heavily upon the accelerator pedal of a cold motor, or does something else which causes the motor to die when it was needed most. Automobile manufacturers can and will relieve our fears, both real and imaginary, by giving us cars with motors which cannot stall.—Conway (Ark.) News.

The Employer's Side

T. D. writes with regard to a joke recently printed in this column: "The threat of the merchant to an employee who had asked for a raise that if he wasn't careful he would be made a partner and so get nothing, recalling to my mind a bit of advice once given by a successful man. 'Work faithfully for eight hours a day and don't worry, and in time you may become a boss and work twelve hours a day and have all the worry.'"

AKRON FINISHES 48-HOUR CRUISE, FINAL TEST TRIP

World's Largest Airship Awaits Acceptance by U. S. Navy.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Successfully completing the last and most rigorous of its flight tests, the United States airship Akron rode at anchor within its dock today awaiting the government's call to join the navy's air fleet.

The Akron moored this morning after a cruise of 48 hours and 15 minutes over the Mid-West. The flight was the ninth and last of a series designed to test every detail of construction before acceptance by the United States.

While official word of the outcome of its tests must come from Washington, there was every indication tonight that the great airship, largest lighter-than-air craft in the world, had successfully met every test imposed on it.

Leif A. Miall, G. C. Day, chief of the navy board of inspection and survey, came down the gangway this morning with the word that he regarded the cruise as "highly successful." Mr. Carl Arnstein, designer and chief of construction, said he was "highly impressed."

Upon government acceptance of the Akron, the navy plans immediately to lay the ring of a second great airship, a sister ship to the Akron. Budget appropriations have been approved.

MILLIONS CAN BE SAVED ANNUALLY ON SCHOOL SYSTEMS

By W. F. Bond.

The financing of our school system right now is one of the most important matters we have to consider. More than two million dollars can be saved annually on the current expenses of our public school system.

1. Raise the minimum educable age from five to six years and save a half million dollars and be better for the five year old.

2. Do away with unnecessary duplication of expense by maintaining high schools only where they are needed to accommodate the children and save a half million dollars more and give us much better high schools.

3. Finish the public school course in eleven years instead of twelve or thirteen years as we now have it and save one million dollars.

This saving should be made to the districts where tax levies are highest. The running expenses of our school system should be taken care of by county wide levies and the state appropriations.

I hope that teachers, trustees and the people generally will think of these matters seriously so that we may begin to put them into operation next year.

This rule is for the protection of the people walking along the highways. In walking on the left hand side of the road the pedestrian faces oncoming traffic and run no risk of being run down from the rear.

Patrolmen are being placed along the highways of the state and traffic regulations will be enforced from now on. A special drive is being made against one-eyed automobiles at night, one of the gravest traffic dangers.

Peds to the left and vehicles to the right. That's the rule of the road now.—Commercial Dispatch.

CURRENT COMMENT

DWIGHT W. MORROW LAID AWAY WITH SIMPLE CEREMONY.

United States Senator Dwight W. Morrow is laid away with simple ceremonies, including his favorite prayer: "Give me beauty of the inward soul, and may the outward and the inward man be one." He has gone to the Great Court, of which the king of Hamlet said: "In the corrupted currents of this world Offence's gilt'd hand may shove by justice, And oft 'tis seen the wicked prize itself Buys out the law; but 'tis not so above; There is no shuffling, there the action lies In his true nature."

Not the least of Mr. Morrow's pleas will be that in his case the inward and the outward man were one. What his lips pronounced, his heart had approved. This may have weight before a tribunal in which there is no shuffling, and where the action lies in its true nature.

COLUMBUS STILL ENTITLED TO HONOR.

Columbus Day has passed, and with it the annual flood of arguments that Columbus did not discover America after all. Perhaps this is true, but until the number of contenders has been reduced from a dozen or so to one, he is entitled to his rest and honor. If he was not the first to drop his anchor within view of American shores, eight or ten anchors could not all have been the first.

PASSES A SUNDAY WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

New York City went through last Sunday without a single death due to violence. By some strange prompting of the spirit, even the bootleggers, racketeers and other enemies of constitutional government must have been moved to obey the Mosaic injunction to remember the Sabbath Day and keep it holy.

MAN OF GENIUS SHOULD SUFFER.

Gandhi is willing to pay a visit to America if he can be assured that he will not be regarded as a mere curiosity and as a target of ridicule. He is asking too much, and has forgotten a well-known quotation from Goethe: "It was necessary that he should suffer, for he was a man of genius."

GLORIFICATION OF COWARDLY GANGSTERS.

The President speaks a good word in the interest of law and order when he decries "the glorification of cowardly gangsters." There is no reason why a motion picture or book based on gang operations should be more attractive than one showing how a wife beater goes to work. The one criminal is quite as much of a hero as the other, and the criminality of neither affords a wholesome tale.

OYSTERS

By Felix L. Philpott, M. D.

With the coming of cold weather, many people look forward with joy to the appearance of oysters on the menu. This is a season when the oyster has long been looked upon as an appetizer or as an adjunct to a complete meal. However, it is not only a healthful food, but it is also a source of nutrition in much work, the result of which has been to indicate that oysters should be given more consideration as an article of diet because of their food value.

Oysters contain good quality protein which makes them as valuable as a change for steak or chops, or any other meat protein food. They are rich in iron, an essential mineral needed in the diet. Nutrition research now shows that this iron is valuable in preventing anemia since oysters contain copper also, small quantities of which are essential to the formation of red in the blood. The iodine content of oysters is vastly higher than that of other fresh foods included in the normal diet. A more general use of oysters would therefore be beneficial in gutter prevention. Oysters also contain vitamins A, C, and D. When eaten raw, the full content of vitamin C is retained.

To insure the safety of oysters, the Mississippi State Board of Health and health departments in other states maintain sanitary supervision over the growing, handling, packing, and shipping of oysters. In order that the output of any plant may be accepted for sale or shipment, the plant must possess an unrevoked shipping certificate. To secure this certificate, it is necessary for the plant to comply with certain rigid sanitary requirements.

ests. China does not see it that way. The long reaches of Time may go away with traction between the two nations by making them one. No other permanent and definite solution seems possible. China may absorb Japan by the working of slow ethnic processes. China may become Japan under the rule that the fittest survive. The possibility of such a union should quiet the fears of the one who see a world menace in Russia. Per contra, Slavic power will have to be dealt with before the supremacy of the yellow people becomes a reality.

A LOT IN A FEW WORDS. A metropolitan daily has the following notice in its personal column: "Mother, I want to see you. Grace." A single sentence, directly from the heart, often will tell a better story, and make a more profound impression, than a whole book.

Local Goodyear Dealer Receives Art Photograph Of U. S. S. Akron

Word has been received by E. J. Arceneux, proprietor and manager of Arceneux Super Service, Goodyear dealer at Beach and Court streets, of the award of a beautiful art photograph of the U. S. S. Akron, world's largest airship, framed in durium, the material used in the framework structure of this levitation of the air.

Mr. Arceneux wins the picture, which is now on display in his service station window, for making his sales quota in the July-August sales contest for Goodyear dealers, known as the Dealers' Annual Zeppelin Sales Race.

Mr. Arceneux said, "it is one of the most worthwhile trophies of such a race, besides being a memento of this giant airship that will become increasingly valuable as time goes on as an historical feature."

"The sales contest was of great value in helping us get the maximum amount of business this summer, and it put Goodyear tires on the cars of many people who did not know before what our service could do for them."

Mr. Arceneux has been a Goodyear dealer in this city for two years.

Banana "Crop"

What may be termed a new industry is having its inception in the home grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. O. Mauffray of Main street where at the present time there are four large bunches of bananas growing on the group of stalks on the east side of the lawn. One of the bunches is especially large, equal in size with those shipped here from tropical countries, containing some 450 well formed bananas. For several years bananas have grown in this ground and the annual "crop" this year is unusually fine.

Leonhard of New Orleans and nephew and adopted son of Mrs. E. J. Leonhard of Bay St. Louis. The wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock at the church of the Holy Rosary in New Orleans with Rev. Vincent officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bridal gown was of white velvet, made in long straight lines. Her veil of illusion was held to the head with a cap, also of illusion and across the back was a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried lilies of the valley. Miss Ruth Thriffly was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen and Lovetta McCue, Bernadette Ryan, Nora Elizardi and Emma Dunn. Their frocks were of egg-shell velvet with which they wore brown hats and brown gloves and slippers. Their flowers were Karlez roses. Mr. Walter Leonhard was the best man. The groomsmen were, Messrs. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Thriffly wore black chiffon and lace with black hat and matching accessories. Mr. Leonhard, mother of the groom, was wearing all black and Mrs. Ernest Leonhard, aunt of the groom wore grey chiffon with violet-colored hat and slippers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonhard left by motor for a fortnight's honeymoon that will take them to Washington, New York and other eastern points. They passed through Bay St. Louis Wednesday afternoon. Mississippi Coast Fair Will Open At Gulfport Next Monday, Oct. 26

The Mississippi Coast Fair will open at Gulfport Fair Grounds Monday of next week and continue for the full week, closing Saturday night. This will be the first free fair that has been conducted at Gulfport, as there will be no charge for admission into the Fair Grounds or to the exhibit hall, this year. Many of the spaces at the fair have been taken and are being decorated into booths for use by various local firms for advertising purposes and by local organizations for food booths. The general spaces in which the various prize exhibits will be placed are being decorated under the direction of the secretary, A. G. Johnson, and his corps of workmen. The entire exhibit hall has been cleared and is rapidly becoming an attractive show place.

The flags, bunting and gay colored banners are being placed throughout the building. New backs are being arranged for the protection of hand articles. Again this year it is believed that the community displays will be features and spaces are being arranged for them.

Postal savings rose $41,288,000 last month to $449,606,000.

Mrs. Schwartz, our president, absent on account of illness, was occupied by the vice president, Miss Ethel Sylvestre, and members present unanimously to let the P. T. A. buy an American flag for the school. At the meeting refreshments were served.

Our local organization is planning a busy year, keeping in mind the main objective—to bring together the home and school for the welfare of the child. Thus far we have rolled twenty members this year and intend to solicit others later.

Birds Never Vary Song Through Life

Persons moving from one section of the country to another change their type of speech, but the song and cries of migratory birds always are the same. Dr. John M. May, head of the English Department at Tulane university, said in an address Tuesday to the students and faculty members of New Orleans North school, 1532 Callopie street. He mimicked the mocking bird and other species and declared their songs are inspiring to almost every human. —Times-Picayune.
